Jockey's Ridge State Park

Yes, I realize this isn't on Hatteras Island but it is close enough and can be part of an interesting and fun day trip. In 1975 North Carolina designated Jockey's Ridge State Park. It contains 385 acres of shifting sand dunes, shrub vegetation, thickets, temporary pools and wildlife.

Although at first glance it may just seem like a large pile of sand. You are invited to explore Jockeys Ridge State Park and discover that it is indeed a unique place of beauty, mystery and infinite variety. The park entrance is on NC Hwy 12 in Nags Head at Milepost 12. The park's facilities include a natural history museum, restrooms and 8 picnic shelters with tables and grills.

Activities at Jockey's Ridge State Park include:

Hang-gliding is allowed on certain dune faces in the park. Only those persons with a USHGA Hang 1 or other agency-approved rating card may hang-glide on Jockey's Ridge. All hang-gliders must register with the Park Office. Hang-gliding activity stops one hour before the park closes. Lessons are available from Kitty Hawk Kites at the Hang-gliding Facility near the Visitor Center. Landing areas are designated by orange cones.

Kite Flying – The views are great from the top of the ridge, and so is the wind! Head on up and let your spirit (and your kite) soar. Please be considerate and conscious of safety concerns if you are flying a stunt kite.

Sand-boarding is allowed in a designated area of the park from October 1 to March 31. Permits must be obtained from the park office. Parents have to sign for anyone under 18.

Kayaking, windsurfing and swimming are permitted at the soundside access off of the Soundside Road. The Roanoke Sound is a great, shallow place for playing in the water. Access to the sound is located on the southwest corner of the park. To get to the parking lot, take a right onto Soundside Road just past the dunes, and go until the road starts to curve to the left. The entrance to the parking area is on the right. Windsurfers must use designated launch area.

Kitty Hawk - Wright Bros. Monument

Just a short ride north of Nags Head you can also visit the Wright Bros. Monument. Wind, sand, and a dream of flight brought Wilbur and Orville Wright to Kitty Hawk, North Carolina where, after four years of experimentation, they achieved the first successful airplane flights in 1903. With courage and perseverance, these self-taught engineers relied on teamwork and application of the scientific process. What they achieved changed our world forever.

The Wright Monument is the largest monument in this country built to a living person. Orville Wright attended the Monument dedication in 1932.

Chicamacomico Life Saving Station - Rodanthe

North Carolina's Outer Banks has a rich maritime history and the unequalled bravery of the island's life saving stations is well worth looking into. In the forty-four year history of the U.S. Life-Saving Service, 177,286 lives were saved of the 178,741 lives in peril (99.2%), a record unparalleled even today. Remarkably, this is coupled with a less than one percent loss of life for the actual U.S. Life Savers. No life-savers were ever lost from Chicamacomico, mainly because of their superb training.

Built and manned in 1874, Chicamacomico was the first United States Life-Saving Service station in North Carolina, dedicated to the sole purpose of rescuing lives in peril from the sea. After the U.S. Life-Saving Service evolved into the U.S. Coast Guard in 1915 this station saw service until 1954. It is home to one of the greatest rescues in early Coast Guard history, the 1918 rescue of forty-two crew members of the British tanker, Mirlo. Chicamacomico Life-Saving Station Historic Site is listed on the National Register of Historic Places, and is a proud member of Historic Albemarle Tour.
