The library was completely renovated and expanded as part of a multi-phased project that also renovated much of the Hatteras Community Building during late 2007 and 2008 with funds from Hatteras Village Civic Association and tax trustees and Dare County.

Among the highlights of the new Hatteras Library:

- 4 internet stations and WiFi, the old library had 2 stations and no WiFi.
- A separate area for elementary-school age children where they can study, work on homework or read for leisure. In the old library, all children's materials were in one tiny area with no chairs of seating for anyone larger than a toddler.
- Significantly more workspace for the staff, including a second check out computer, which will make daily operations much more efficient.
- A separate section for Teen users, including a computer for research and writing reports.
